Faculties should provide staff across the school with a clear vision and explicit knowledge required in order for them to plan and develop innovative lessons which build on prior learning. Following curriculum plans, progress from reception to year 6 should be clear and children should be able to talk about their learning. Faculties should ensure that staff have the tools required to implement action plans and enable all pupils, including those who are disadvantaged (SEN and PP) and More Able to not only access learning but to achieve highly.
